Port of Stockton Police Department

Mission

The mission of the Port of Stockton Police Department is to ensure the safety and security of all tenants, customers, employees, and visitors to the Port. We do so by working in partnership with all involved regulatory entities and users of the Port of Stockton to provide the highest level of police service.

Core Values

Our core values guide our actions to accomplish our mission in a manner we can take pride in. The Core Values for the Port of Stockton Police Department are:

- Integrity: Both in public and private, members of the Department will be truthful and carry themselves in an honorable manner.
- Relationships: Every Department member will work in partnership with our Port community and strengthen our working relationships to maximize transparency, safety, and security.
- Professionalism: Department members are trained and held to the highest standard of police service delivery.
- Innovation: By utilizing technology, unique funding sources, partnerships, and other force multipliers, we strive to provide service, solve problems, and address issues in the most creative and cost efficient manner possible.

Law Enforcement Code of Ethics

As a Law Enforcement Officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the Constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality, and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all; maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn, or ridicule; develop self-restraint; be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed in both my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the laws of the land and the regulations of my department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature, or that which is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities, or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or violence and never accepting gratuities. I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust, to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of police service. I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession...law enforcement.

1.20 Rule

A rule is a specific requirement or prohibition that is stated to prevent deviation from policy or procedure. Rules allow little deviation other than for stated exceptions.

1.21 Policy

Policy consists of principles and values which guide the performance of a Department activity. Policy is not a statement of what must be done in a particular situation; rather, it is a statement of guiding principles which should be followed in activities which are directed toward the attainment of Department objectives.

Policy is formulated by analyzing objectives and determining through research those principles which will best guide the Department in achieving its objectives. Policy is based upon police ethics and experience, the desires of the community, and the mandate of the law.

Policy is articulated to inform the public and Department employees of the principles which will be adhered to in the performance of the law enforcement function. Additionally, policy establishes operational standards to assist Department employees in the necessary exercise of discretion in discharging their responsibility.

An officer in the performance of his duty is confronted with an infinite variety of complex situations which require police action. Since policy is objective rather than situation oriented, it is broad enough in scope to encompass most situations. Policy, therefore, must be stated in general terms.

1.22 Procedure

A procedure is a method of performing an operation or a manner of proceeding on a course of action. It differs from policy in that it directs action in a particular situation to perform a specific task within the guidelines of policy. Both policies and procedures are objective oriented; however, policy establishes limits of action while procedure directs response within those limits.

1.23 Public Service

Often, because there are no other public or private agencies available, the public relies upon the Department for assistance and advice in the many routine and emergency situations which develop in urban society. For this reason and because there is frequently a potential for crime, the Department regularly responds to incidents where it is not contemplated that an arrest will be made. Saving lives and aiding the injured, locating lost persons, keeping the peace, and providing for many other miscellaneous needs are basic services provided by the Department. To satisfy these requests, the Department responds to calls for service and renders such aid or advice as is necessitated or indicated by the situation.

Chapter IV Departmental Discipline

4.0 General Provisions

The Port of Stockton Police Department has established standards of performance and conduct that are reasonable, job-related and nondiscriminatory. These standards are intended to facilitate coordination of effort, develop self-control and character, and foster orderliness and efficiency.

Discipline is essential in order to meet and maintain such standards and develop morale and esprit de corps. Discipline may take the form of encouragement, inspiration and training or the imposition of negative sanctions. Policies, procedures, rules, regulations and written and/or oral directives are the means to accomplish acceptable performance and conduct. When violations of such directives occur, members will be subject to disciplinary action.

4.01 Discipline Policy

It is the policy of this Department to use the concept of "Progressive Discipline" whenever applicable. This means that the corrective action taken for a first offense will generally be less severe than that taken for a subsequent offense. It does not mean that all disciplinary action must follow a prescribed pattern. The appropriate disciplinary action for a given offense will be determined by supervisory or management personnel after consideration of all relevant factors including, but not limited to the nature and severity of the offense, the history of the employee, any mitigating circumstances and the effect on the organization. Generally, the least severe disciplinary action sufficient to produce the desired change in behavior shall be employed.

Any member violating his oath and trust by committing an offense punishable under the laws or statutes of the United States, the State of California, the ordinances of the city of Stockton, the laws and ordinances of any other jurisdiction, or who violates any provision of the Rules and Regulations or Polices of the Port of Stockton, or who disobeys any lawful verbal order, is subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

Such member may, however, be required to justify this departure from established procedure.
